

Professor Vesna Nikolic-Ristanovic is the winner of the "Andjelka Milic" award

Professor Vesna Nikolic-Ristanovic is the winner of the "Andjelka Milic" award - for exceptional or lifelong contribution to the creation of knowledge in the field of gender and feminist studies and their application in the women's movement, awarded by the Section for Feminist Research and Critical Studies of Masculinity (SEFEM)

As a scientist, researcher, feminist lawyer and activist, professor Vesna Nikolic-Ristanovic, with her four decades of scientific research and activist work, has made a significant contribution to reforming the legislative framework and building an institutional response to violence against women in Serbia. victim support services, the inclusion of feminist theory and methodology and the topic of violence against women in university education in Serbia, as well as the development of a non-conflict society. Through her work, she has made an invaluable contribution to strengthening feminist production of contextualized knowledge, primarily through original research, which has served as a basis for advocating for significant social change aimed at improving gender equality, improving the position of women, improving the legal protection of victims of crime. but also to the wider application of feminist knowledge and experience in all other areas of social life in Serbia. Through her activist work, Vesna has made an invaluable contribution to the development and spread of the women's movement in Serbia.

More about award: <https://sefem.org/nagrade/> .